WELCOME MESSAGE FROM APTHS PRESIDENT

Dear Colleagues,

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to Kathmandu for the 11th Asia Pacific Travel Health Conference, being held at the beautiful Yak and Yeti from the 2-5th March, 2016.

The Asia Pacific Travel Health Society has come a long way since its inception over 15 years ago. Our society has established itself as the regional authority in educating and advocating healthy and safe travel within Asia Pacific among travel health practitioners, the travel industry and the general public. We now have over 1,500 members including clinicians, researchers, academics, nurses, and allied health professionals from all over the world.

With its theme "Wilderness and mountain medicine: Travel medicine where it happens", our 11th Conference features internationally renowned speakers and experts who will share, discuss, and debate relevant issues in travel medicine. The organizing committee has worked hard to put together this exciting program to ensure all interests are catered for. In addition to the main conference, adjunct activities have been organized including a pre-meeting workshop on High-Altitude Illness and the option of post-meeting short excursions or longer treks.

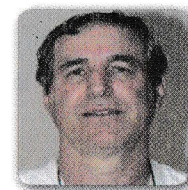

We are once again thankful to the International Society of Travel Medicine for offering the Certificate of Travel Health® Examination just prior to the conference. This will help improve the standard for travel medicine in our region.

I am sure that you will enjoy the learning opportunities APTHC 2016 has to offer, and that you will also have a chance to network among colleagues while enjoying the cuisine, culture, amazing sights, and warm hospitality of Kathmandu.

I wish you an enjoyable time in our host city of Kathmandu, and look forward to seeing you at the conference.

Best wishes,
Professor Karin Leder
President, Asia Pacific Travel Health Society

WELCOME MESSAGE FROM ORGANIZING COMMITTEE CHAIR

On behalf of the Organizing Committee of the 11th Asia Pacific Travel Health conference, I would like to welcome you to Katmandu, Nepal!

The Scientific Committee spearheaded by Dr. Jenny Visser has come up with an excellent scientific program featuring top-notch speakers from all over the world. The conference themed "Travel Medicine where it happens" covers a wide-range of topics including emerging infections and health impacts, re-emerging viral infectious diseases, preventative medicine, primary health care, Wilderness medicine and more.

The theme "Travel Medicine where it happens" is reflected in our pre and post conference activities. We have included a special full day workshop dedicated to high-altitude medicine as a pre-conference activity, and came up with a wide variety of field activities including trekking, bicycling and volunteering as post-conference activities.

Katmandu was selected to be the location for this conference prior to the devastating earthquake. We felt that it is highly valuable to keep the conference in Katmandu despite this event, and we are happy to see that the delegates felt the same by registering for the conference and supporting Katmandu after this tragedy.

This conference has attracted hundreds of participants from more than 35 countries from the 6 continents, a testament to how APTHC is becoming a worldwide authority in our field and reaffirms the rapidly growing interest in international travel within our region.

We would like to thank Prof. Prativa Pandey, for her extraordinary efforts and the local support and hospitality which made this conference possible. Likewise, we appreciate our industry partners and would especially like to thank GSK for their continued support for the advancement of travel health and travel medicine in Asia Pacific.

Apart from the opportunity to learn, discuss, debate, exchange and share knowledge and experiences among colleagues, APTHC 2016 will also give you an opportunity to enjoy the best of what Nepal has to offer.

I hope you Learn from the conference and wish you a memorable stay in Nepal!

Yours,
Professor Eli Schwartz
Chair, APTHC 2016 Organizing Committee

WELCOME MESSAGE FROM LOCAL ORGANIZING COMMITTEE CHAIR

Dear friends in the Travel Medicine community,

Welcome to Nepal and welcome to the 11th Asia Pacific Travel Health Conference (APTHC). After the huge success of Singapore and Vietnam, this conference has come to Nepal, a destination that is on the list of most people's MUST VISIT list of countries. Nepal has survived the devastating earthquake of April 2015 where 9000 people perished. A severe blow was dealt to the health sector (mostly rural healthcare) when 446 health facilities were destroyed completely and 765 health facilities were damaged. Reconstruction is yet to begin for most of these places.

Your presence in Nepal will help to spread word among the traveling public that Nepal is safe to visit after the earthquake. Visitors to Nepal will help the country recover quickly from the after-effects of the earthquake, by revitalizing the economy and bringing about a positive frame of mind among the Nepali people. We are very grateful that you are here to participate in the conference, which should be exciting where you not only learn "state of the art" Science in Travel Medicine but also connect with old friends and colleagues from around the world and develop new friendships. Please feel free to contact me at any time during the conference if you have any questions or concerns about your stay in Nepal.

Hope you have a wonderful time in Nepal and enjoy the conference!

With best wishes,
Professor Prativa Pandey
